School of Practical Nursing

Nassawadox, Virginia

Volume One

T L C

DEDICATION

The Class of 1965 dedicates the first edition of T.L.C. to the instructors of N.A.M.H. Nursing School, Mrs. Betty Warren, Mrs. Georgia Mae Guy, and Mrs. Margaret Cramer. We dedicate this yearbook to them because of their interest in us as Student Nurses, future L.P.N.'s, and individuals. They have instilled in our hearts and minds the basic ideals and principles of nursing which will remain with us always.

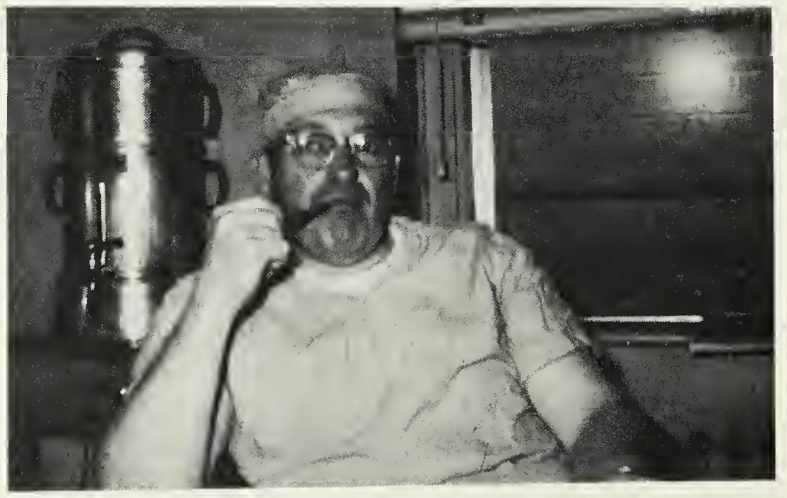
Around the Hospital



Last Will and Testament

I, Kathleen Angle, leave my "wasted motion" to the most organized pupil in the class of '66.

I, Carol Bury, leave my marriage plans and blonde hair to the most fickle brunette student in the class of '66.

I, Joyce Campbell, leave with the hope that no one beats my restriction record.

I, Rella Coates, leave to the students my afternoon walks to "Downtown" Nassawadox.

I, Helen Corbin, leave to the student with the shortest legs, my stool to relieve her swollen legs and feet.

I, Lou Gladden, leave my calloused fingers to the student nearest my age.

I, Eileen Kaysian, bequeath thirty pounds of avoirdupois.

I, Iva Jane Marshall, leave to the class of '66 my closet-jumping ability.

I, Kay Nottingham, leave my indented chair in the classroom to the smallest pupil in the class of '66.

I, Wallette Outten, leave to one of the students of the class of '66 the job of keeping the parking lot free of bottles and not getting caught.

I, Francis Russell, leave my coffee cup to a fellow coffee addict, Mrs. Cramer.

I, Sharon Simpson, leave my sneezing to a student of '66 majoring in coryza.

I, Pat Tinsman, leave to the class of '66 my empty mailbox---with pleasure!

I, Lavenia White, leave my penned-in feelings to next year's occupant of room 9 provided she likes the indoors.

I, Ruby Wilson, leave the "ghosts" in room 5 to the class of '66.
